"We have witnessed the failure of the Turk as a soldier. We have seen him dying of hunger, worn out by fatigue, wrecked by suffering and running away after having abandoned his place in the combat. "I have never seen a more poignant picture of human distress than that presented by these unhappy men. thrown into one of the most terrible wars in history, without food, without medical attention, almost without chiefs, almost without arms. And at Seidler I saw a soldier whose right hand had been severed hold out to us, begging for medical help, the bleeding stump, around which he had tied a piece of twine.

"I saw long lines of famished men, who came to our tent begging for a crumb of bread and staggering away ger. without a murmur of complaint when told that we had none to give. I saw a thousand wounded leaving a trail of blood as they dragged themselves toward Tchorlu. I saw hundreds of others fall by the wayside, dying from wounds and fatigue.

"At Tchorlu a column of soldiers, terrible in appearance, staggered through the streets in a driving rain and wind storm. No one paid any attention to them. They had no shelter, nothing to eat. From a nearby bakery an officer threw out handfuls of bread, and the soldiers fought for possession of the loaves. More than half of them got nothing, and turned away, ragged, pallid and weak.

"All the houses were closed. Practically all the population had fled, and those who remained barricaded themselves within, trembling with fear. The soldiers knocked vainly at the barred doors. Groups shivering in the cold tried the doors of stables to seek refuge; even the stables remained inhospitable. Refugees smashed their way into shops and devoured all they found, including raw vegetables and candles, and sucked at pieces of greasy

"I never saw such an image of Inferno. One of the most miserable of the wanderers succeeded in getting into a house where we were staying, drenched to the skin and teeth chattering. 'Take all my money; take my clothing if you will,' he cried, 'but I beg of you to give me some bread."

"I questioned him. He said he came from Asia Minor and had not eaten for eight days. I gave him a slice of bread and a chocolate tablet, and he went away to join the remnants of the retreating army, of which this was the

"Thus did the Turkish soldier appear to me. He seemed to have no understanding of the great drama in which he was participating. But his infinite misery and his horrible animal distress were enough to break one's heart. "I do not know whether the accusations of a massacre are exact, but so far as I have observed I can affirm that not only have the Turks committed no the world under such frightful circumstances would have been more moderate, more docile."

HAS NO FEAR FOR COLLEGE

Son of Robert's Organizer Says army. Turks Favor Institution.

Although Cleveland H. Dodge, president of the board of trustees of Robert College, Constantinople, did not rece Gates, president of that institution, as he had expected, a cable message was received by Professor A. D. F. Hamlin, of Columbia University, from John Muller, superintendent of construction at Robert Dr. Gates, it was said at the office of Mr. Dodge that he had not sent $10,000 or more by cable as he had intended doing, but would forward the money to-day whether he heard or not. At the Commercial Cable office it was said all messages were delayed forty-eight hours or more.

Professor Hamlin said the message from gard to construction work on the college. 'He didn't say a word about any fears for the college," said Professor Hamlin. The college would be one of the last places, anyway, that would be attacked. An erroneous impression has got abroad that the Turkish people are down on the institution. It is just the opposite. Last year it had the largest enrolment of Turks in the history of the institution. and at the present time it has seventy-five Turkish students. So far the only trouble experienced was when fifty Slavic workmen quit work on the new buildings being erected and went to the war."

Professor Hamlin was born in Constantinople, and his father, Dr. Cyrus Hamwas the organizer and first president of the college. Two years ago he spent many months in Constantinople preparing plans for the enlargement of the institution in view of the Kennedy bequest of $1,500,000. Mr. Muller represents Professor Hamlin there at the present time.

ADRIANOPLE BOMBARDED

Correspondent Within Besieged City Sends Message.

Adrianople, Nov 9, 3:45 p. m. (via Odessa).-The bombardment of this city by the Bulgarians began again yesterday and continued to-day from the south and west. In the afternoon it stopped, and Shukri Pacha, the military commandant, had placards posted all over the city announcing the victory of the garrison, which had repulsed the Bulgarian attacking force around Maras and had driven the be-

1/2 Glass before Breakfast tones up the stomach, clears the head and does you good.

FRANCE PUTS PRESSURE ON POWERS FOR PEACE Rodosto Not Yet Taken, Though

Question Whether Servia Shall or Shall Not Have Port on Adriatic Too Small for Europe to Fight Over.

Europe to be plunged into war simply ver the question whether Servia shall have a port on the Adriatic is an eventuality too monstrous to be entertained." This quotation from one of the leading newspapers here fairly sums up Europe's attitude toward the Balkan dan-

All the diplomatic pressure possible will be exerted in Vienna, Belgrade and St. Petersburg to induce the adoption of conciliatory policies at what is regarded as this critical moment for European peace. The reports that Russia has extended the time of service of her soldiers and is not granting any requests for leave made by her army officers in the district of Warsaw, together with the fact that Austria-Hungary is strengthening the Herzegovina, are regarded as disturbing factors during the present European ten-

The suggestion by the British Premier, Mr. Asquith, that all specific questions, such as the distribution of ports on the Adriatic, should be postponed finds great favor in France, where it is thought that f such subsidiary problems can be relegated to the future the danger of a European conflict will have passed.

Advices reaching here from Belgrade this morning confirm the report that the of view to Premier Pachich of Servia by the Austrian Minister contained nothing of the character of an ultimatum. Prenier Pachich was to leave to-day for Uskub to confer with King Peter, and the impression distinctly prevails that Austria-Hungary and Servia are tryng earnestly to reach an agreement.

Some interesting sidelights on the war are telegraphed by a correspondent of 'Le Matin," who had opportunities of talking with some of the Turkish prisoners in the hands of the Bulgarians. Many of them had come from Asia and had never before heard of Bulgaria. When the cause of the war was explained to them, one of them said:

We knew nothing of that. At Brusa, we were told that, according to the law

'infidels,' and that the hour to exterminate them had arrived. We were also told that Allah had promised us victory, and the Turkish governors declared we should divide among us the immense riches of the enemies of Allah. We have, therefore, been deceived."

The situation at Constantinople is described by the correspondent of "Le Matin" there. He says the British cruiser Weymouth is in direct wireless communication with the station at Poldhu, Wales, and receives daily the latest political, financial and sporting news. The crews of the foreign warships are now allowed shore leave and stroll along the streets without exciting much attention from the

The presence of the foreign warships in garrisons of the provinces of Bosnia and the Dardenelles provokes various amusing comments from the Turks. Thus, one patriot called on the French Ambassador to thank him for the fact that the French government had sent the Léon Gamtetta instead of another vessel. "We underhe said, "the delicate attention stand," this implies and the encouragement you meant to give us, for Gambetta stands as the type of statesman of the national

Two of the inhabitants of Constantinople were overheard exchanging a peculiar dialogue. "What," asked one of them, pointing to the Bosporus, "are all these foreign warships?" "Those," replied the ther without a smile. "are the ships we have taken from the Greeks."

The French admiral, who, owing to his seniority of rank, is in command of the international fleet at Constantinople, has been obliged to come to an arrangement with the other commanders in regard to the use of the wireless. On the first day of the gathering of the fleet all the ships were working their apparatus at same time, causing great confusion. Now each ship has been allotted a certain hour during which she may telegraph.

Toulon, Nov. 11.-The French armored Far East, has been intercepted by wire- four miles from the town, on the in Asia Minor, where we were recruited, less and ordered to proceed at once to Muradli Road on Thursday, Religious Constantinople.

slegers a considerable distance into the surrounding country.

This is the first dispatch sent by any correspondent with the besieged Turkish garrison of Adrianople.

ACTIVITY IN VIENNA

Austria-Hungary's Position Is Summed Up in Four Points.

Vienna, Nov. 11.-Symptoms that important decisions in connection with the Balkan situation are under conexcesses, but I believe that no army in sideration in Austria-Hungary are seen in the fact of the frequent audiences between Count von Berchtold, the Austro-Hungarian Foreign Minister, and Emperor Francis Joseph, who has also several times conferred with the War Minister and the chief of the general staff of the Austro-Hungarian

To these significant occurrences are duke Francis Ferdinand; the heir to the Austro-Hungarian throne, and his dispatch yesterday from Dr. Charles F. forthcoming visit to the German Ernperor as well as yesterday's conference between Dr. S. Daneff, the President of the Bulgarian Chamber of Deputies, and Count von Berchtold, and College. In the absence of word from subsequently with the German Ambassador at Vienna.

Dr. Daneff, who, before leaving Butgaria, was received by King Ferdinand, and while passing through Servia had audiences with King Peter and Premier John Muller, who was graduated from the culty in regard to Servia's desire for Columbia School of Architecture and was an Adriatic port. He is also supposed formerly a pupil of Professor Hamlin, was to be empowered to make a special filed on Saturday night and was in re- agreement with Austria-Hungary concerning Bulgarian interests and Rumanian claims. A local newspaper, the "Sonn and Montags Zeitung." sums up the position of Austria-Hungary in the Baikan question in the following four points: First: Assured and unrestricted facilities for access to the Eastern markets and free commercial transit to Salon-

Second: The integrity of Albania. Third: The protection of Austria-Hungary's political interests by the creation of local relations with Servia and the exclusion of political antag-

Fourth: Compensation for Rumania.

CHOLERA IN BOTH CAMPS

Bulgars Affected as Well as Turks-Reports of Fighting.

Constantinople, Nov. 11, 10 p. m .-The Bulgarians began an attack on the Turkish advanced positions along the The Tennessee and the Montana Tchataldja line yesterday afternoon, The fighting continued throughout today. Judging from the number of wounded arriving in Constantinople, the Turkish troops are offering ferce resistance. The Porte to-night sent a note by telegraph to the Turkish representatives abroad, inquiring what progress had been made with respect to obtaining the conditions of the Balkan States in the matter of an armistice. The Porte is still without a reply to its recent appeal to the powers.

Cholera has appeared among the Bulgarian troops, according to the reports. The number of wounded soldiers reaching the capital is increasing to such an extent that the War Office has decided to send contingents to Brusa, in Asia Minor. Every possible accommodation in the capital is being utilized for the care of the wounded. Several warehouses, a wing of the barracks and other buildings have been transformed into hospitals, and two large hospitals in the suburb of Kadikeui were opened to-day. The Unionist and other political clubs, temporarily closed by order of the government, have also been converted into hospitals. An official bulletin save that during the last twenty-four hours six new cases of cholera, with two deaths, have found it vacated. occurred among the refugees. The usual sanitary and quarantine measures are being applied to shipping leaving Constantinople. The warships in the harbor were dressed to-day and salutes were fired in honor of the King of Italy's birth-

Uses His Influence to Restrain

Austrian Precipitancy. London, Nov. 11.-Kaiser Wilhelm's eading London newspapers to-day.

added the arrival at Budapest of Arch- his influence in the present European men, weeping women and howling chilmeel Ametria wo uld have ocis probably all that keeps Austria from sands broke out afresh. using its army to arrest the Servian advance to the Adriatic." Information of the same tenor comes from Valentine Williams, Paris corre- in a long thin line around the town, rachich, is believed to be the bearer spondent of "The Daily Mail," who but they could offer resistance to the was sent to Vienna to watch interna- invincible invader for no great length tional events.

> "Four years ago," telegraphs Mr. Bosnia and Herzegovina the Kaiser proclaimed the appearance of Germany in shining armor beside its Austrian ally as against Servia, backed by Russia. To-day Germany, though in complete accord with its ally, is exercising its influence to restrain Austria from enforcing its interests until they are actually menaced with permanent endangerment. I learn that the ambitions when the Servian troops were approaching the Sanjak of Novi- in possession of the almost undefendpazar with the intention of wresting it from the Turks."

Those who believe in the efficacy of armaments to preserve peace will be gratified over what may be called the pleasant paradox in the attitude of the chief of the most formidable army in to Sail To-day.

U. S. CRUISERS FOR LEVANT

Philadelphia, Nov. 11.-The armored cruisers Tennessee and Montana will sail early to-morrow for the Mediterranean to protect American interests that might be endangered by the war in Turkey. The big warships, fully equipped, left their berths at the Philadelphia Navy Yard this afternoon and anchored in the Delaware River. They will get under way for the East at high tide to-morrow morning.

Although the cruisers are worthy representatives of the American navy, they are not so large as the English, French and German ships that have been sent to Turkey. The Tennessee and the Montana are practically sister ships, each displacing 14,500 tons and having a speed of twenty-two knots. Each carries a battery of four 10-inch and sixteen 6-inch rifles, twenty-two 2-inch rapid-fire guns and twenty-two guns of smaller calibre.

SERBS REACH ADRIATIC

Vanguard of King Peter's Army Arrives at Its Goal.

Uskub, Turkey, Nov. 11.-The vanguard of the Servian army has reached the coast of the Adriatic. It met no armed resistance during its march through Albania, but its progress was slow on account of the deep snow.

EYEWITNESSES DESCRIBE FIGHTS AT MANY POINTS

Heavily Shelled-Serbs Brave at Prilop, Near Uskub.

London, Nov. 12.-The danger of a nassacre and looting of Constantinople appears to have abated. None of the correspondents of the London papers mentions it this morning. It is possible that the epidemic of cholera is now Paris, Nov. 11.-"For the whole of of the Prophet, we must go to fight the causing greater fears, although if the army is driven into the capital no one can foresee what the disorganized soldiery may attempt.

> The correspondent of "The Daily News" says that there seem to be a quarter of a million people dying from sheer starvation outside the city walls, which soon will be surrounded by a pestilence stricken, famished horde. Even now the people are fighting with the soldiers for handfuls of grain, Every effort is being made to transport the refugees to Anatolia, which is the only means of averting a ghastly catas-Descriptions of Tchataldja differ rad-

The correspondent of "The Daily News" says that the troops sent there are excellent. Every yard of the defences has been mined and protected by barbed wire.

German officers, however, report that the troops are deserting because of hunger and that men are dying of starvation in the trenches.

The correspondent of "The Daily Telgraph," wired on Sunday that the Bulgarian advance had begun and that Nazim Pacha, the Turkish commander in chief, had notified his government that he could offer no effective resist-

Fugitives on their way to Constantinople, he added, had been stopped by bayonets. Fresh troops from the capital had done nothing to restore order

The Bulgarians have not yet taken Rodosto, according to a Constantinople message to "The Daily Telegraph." They surrounded the town on the land side, but apparently were awaiting reruiser Montcalm, now on its way to the inforcements. The Bulgarians appeared dignitaries went out to arrange terms of surrender, but arriving on the spot where the Bulgarians had been they

On Friday, the Turkish warship Messudieh, accompanied by a torpedo tary element," says the correspondent, "gaining confidence from the presence of these vessels, decided to defend Rodosto against the invaders. Trenches were dug commanding the sites and every available man was armed with KAISER'S WORK FOR PEACE any obsolete weapon that could be found. The Bulgarians were awaited, not with confidence, but in the blind belief that something would happen favorable to the Turks.

"During luncheon on Sunday the rigorous effort to avert a European guns of the Messudeh opened with a war is the subject of telegrams from terrific roar. This caused an indescribspecial correspondents of two of the able panic among the Greek and Armenian population, who thought it the "Reputedly fond of war and on the precursor of a general attack and masqui vive for a chance to practise it," sacre. The majority fled for shelter to telegraphed the correspondent of "The the consulates, which were immediately Times" in Sofia, "the Kaiser is using swamped with gesticulating, frantic crisis all on the side of peace. But dren. We did our best to stop the panic by pointing out there was no danger cupied the Sanjak of Novipazar by the and that the Messudieh was firing at middle of October and otherwise ap- the enemy, a long way off, not at the plied force to modify the course of town. But every time the battleship events which subsequently rolled up fired a broadside the houses were the map of Southeastern Europe. At shaken to their foundation, and a wild this moment the same powerful voice babel of sounds from terrified thou-

"We hastened to the highest roof to who defended the town were ranged of time. The fighting lasted throughout the afternoon, the Bulgarians Williams, "when Austria annexed steadily approaching until their bullets it may divide its fund in proportion to university presidents and bankers. were whistling over the houses, causing the entire population to take to their cellars. "Every one expected the Bulgarians to bring up their artillery and combard the town, but either because they were not in strength or had no artillery they did not press the attack. When night fell they, were encircling territory, Bernard N. Baker, of the interthe doomed port with an ever thicken-Kaiser also put the brakes on Austrian ing ring of bayonets, while the feeble and dispirited Turkish garison was still able outer works."

The correspondent got to Constantinople by a French steamer, which the refugees stormed. He terminated his are under the American General Missiondispatch as follows: "When we left ary Board, and there are about one hun-Rodosto was still holding out, but if dred other missionaries from this country. Bulgarians bring reinforcements it must fall.

A vivid account of the storming of Prilop comes from the correspondent embassies in Europe were instructed, at Uskub of "The Daily Telegraph."

the country prevented the guns from being dragged to the front. The Servians had to advance through a narrow defile, which was covered with snow and ice. Both sides suffered terrible hardships.

"The final storming of the Turkish renches occurred on Thursday. The hillside was so steep that the Turks, when the Servians came near the trenches, rolled huge rocks down among them, crushing and maiming scores of men.

"The Servians, disregarding all losses, clambered up the rocks in the face of a terrible fire and sprang into the trenches, bayonetting the Turks and smashing them with clubbed rifles when the bayonets broke, while their comrades dashed up the slopes behind to their support.

"The Turks fought bravely, but the great physical size and power of the Servian infantry at close quarters soon told, and in a few minutes the Turks were in full flight. The most remarkable thing in the attack was that there was not a skulker to be seen. Every man seemed to be filled with a flerce desire to close with the Turks, and Hurst Matson in 1905.

WAR CLOUD LOWERS OVER AUSTRIAN EMPIRE Oriental Rugs

Dual Monarchy Reckons on Support of Her Allies, but Maintenance of Her Attitude May Leave Her Friendless.

determining factor in the maintenance

A Belgrade dispatch says that frequent Cabinet councils on the situation are taking place, and that the Prime Minister has now gone to consult with

King Peter. The situation is undoubtedly serious on account of the direct divergence of Austrian and Servian views concerning the occupation by An agreement on broad lines exists between the allies as to the division of European Turkey, including Albania, and Servia holds to the attitude already expressed by her Prime Minister, who said he considered a port on the Adriatic to be absolutely neces-

According to the Russian Foreign Office view, it would be a mistake to exaggerate the significance of Austria's

The attitude of the Dual Monarchy is regarded here as a temporary aberra-negotiations with Germany, the latter having asked Russla's intentions with

As Responsible as Drivers When

in Car, Judge Rules.

Philadelphia, Nov. 11.-The rights of the public against the reckless running of automobiles were defined by Judge

Sulzberger in the Criminal Court here to-day when he held that an owner of a car who occupied it when an accident occurred was as guilty of manslaughter as the driver. The question came up when Judge Sulzberger sentenced to ninety days' imprisonment a

The judge said the streets of the city speed of automobiles should be regulated to the walking power of pedestrians. The court said that an owner of an automobile, when he occupied it, was supposed to direct the mode of its use, and that it was not the driver who was concerned in getting to a particu-

BOARD REPLIES TO DIX

Advisers of McKinley Hospital

Won't Discuss Situation.

which Governor Dix resigned, met in the Metropolitan Life Building yesterday evening and sent a message to the Governor. Dr. C. P. Bulson, the president, merely said that action upon the Gov-

from them until the board had heard

None of the six members of the board on leaving the meeting would discuss

On Sunday Dr. Bulson declared that recommendation received from various banks and the names of those who are on the league's "Council of One Hun-twenty-nine Governors, members of the "Governor Dix accepted his appoint ment to the advisory board on October

14. He resigned on November 4," Dr

Bulson continued. "If he had communicated with headquarters he would have found that no officers of the league of any member of its boards or committee of one hundred has ever drawn a salary or any emolument, excepting the secretary, who receives $1,250 a year."

United States Senate, State Treasurers

from Governor Dix.

lar place at a particular time.

down and killed a street cleaner.

denial of a port on the Adriatic.

Servia of any Albanian ports.

of Servia's demands.

eary for Servia.

[By Cable to The Tribune.]

London, Nov. 12.-The diplomatic derelopment of the Balkan war holds the field at the moment, there being apparently a lull in the fighting. Important conferences have taken place in Budapest, where there have been frequent audiences between Count Berchtold, Austrian Foreign Minister, with the war minister, the chief of staff of the army and the veteran Emperor himself. The heir apparent to the Austrian throne has also visited the Hungarian capital prior to his departure for Berlin to meet the Emperor William.

Although diplomatic quarters in Vinna have by no means abandoned the hope of a peaceful settlement, it appears certain that Austria insists on minimum demands, which include the integrity of Albania, and that she will enforce her will by all the means at tion. If Russia continues the friendly her disposal.

Austria confidently reckons on the support of her allies, and the Arch- regard to the Dardanelles, and if there duke Ferdinand's visit to Berlin has should eventually be a conference of doubtless to do with this. It may be the powers there is a disposition here also that through German channels a to believe that Austria, in maintaining last appeal or offer may be made to her present attitude, would be as Russia, the power which will prove the friendless as Turkey.

raced like men wild with a longing to AUTO OWNERS CULPABLE get at the foe."

Since the outbreak of hostilities the Servian advance has averaged fourteen files daily. The difficulties have been enhanced by three feet of snow in the last week. The Servian military organization, says the correspondent, is a nodel of foresight and capability.

KAISER'S FELICITATIONS

German Ruler's Compliments on Capture of Salonica.

Athens, Nov. 11 .- The German Emeror has sent a message to his sister, Princess Sophie, wife of Crown Prince Constantine, conveying his congratulaboat, arrived off the port. "The mill- tions on the capture of Salonica. Princess Sophie, accompanied by Premier Venizelos, together with the foreign military attaches, whom the Crown Prince invited to join the army of ocupation, left for Salonica to-day. The Crown Prince has requested the detachments which landed from the foreign warships at Salonica to re-embark, as the Greek troops will now maintain order.

A Greek destroyer has brought to the Piracus the German steamer Tenedos, which is suspected of having Turkish soldiers hidden aboard.

Torrential rains have interrupted communications, and great damage has been done to the rallways and to property throughout the country.

BIG SPHERE FOR RED CROSS ernor's resignation had been taken and Sick and Wounded Soldiers on Both Sides Estimated at 75,000.

11. - Ambassador Washington, Rockhill, at Constantinople, cabled the the situation. State Department to-day that there are now 14,000 sick and wounded in the capi- the $50 which the Governor had contribtal of Turkey, practically none of whom uted to the league would be returned to son's cot, where they had a heart te are prisoners of war. Seventeen cases of him, and also that action would be cholera have been brought to the city by taken against the Governor's remarks soldiers in the last few days, he reports. that "those who are seeking money for Some 18,000 refugees are being cared for the William McKinley Memorial Hoswatch the attack. The Turkish troops by the Ottoman government, and there is pital League are not worthy of support." much sickness, including smallpox, among | Dr. Bulson called attention to letters of them. The American Red Cross authorities here estimate from Mr. Rockhill's figures that there must be about 75,000 sick and dred." On that list are the names of days." wounded soldiers of various nationalities in the field who need care. In order that the needs of the different countries at war, the Red Cross is waiting to hear through the State Department from the American representatives to Bulgaria, Servia, Greece and Montenegro. The figures from Ambassador Rockhill were the rst received.

To keep the American Red Cross informed of conditions in the Balkan war national relief board of the organization, has just started for Europe. The State Department has found that there are between 600 and 700 Americans in European and Asiatic Turkey, most of them being engaged in educational and missionary work. Approximately two hundred of them, not including children

The European powers most intimately concerned in the Balkan situation have undertaken to extend protection to Amer icans in Turkey. The various American when informing the various nations of "On the Servian side." he says, "the the decision of the United States to send battle was waged almost entirely by the armored cruisers Tennessee and Monthe infantry, because the nature of tana to Turkish waters, to inquire whether provision had been made or was contemplated by them in the interest of American citizens in Turkey. Replies in dicate that instructions issued by Great Britain and Russia had anticipated the desires of the American government.

The cutter Unagala to-day was ordered to remain at Port Said for orders from Ambassador Rockhill at Constantinople.

GETS 4TH WIDOW AT 82

Brooklyn Man Who Lost Wife Nov. 1 Marries Her Relative.

Samuel E. Curtis, eighty-two years old, married his fourth wife, Mrs. Mary Mc-Gowan, forty years old, at the rectory of the Roman Catholic Church of the Sacred Heart, Brooklyn, at 5:30 o'clock yesterday evening. Mrs. Curtis has been keeping house for

Mr. Curtis for the last few weeks at No. 129 Waverley avenue, but their acquaintance is of much longer duration Mr. Curtis has a predilection for widows. At the time of the Civil War when he was serving in the United States Navy, he married Mrs. Catherine Nevis. She died after the war, and he married Mrs. Julia Rino. Twenty years later she died. He married Mrs. Amelia

K-C

Distinctive Designs For Decorative Purposes Largest Collection in America KENT-COSTIKYAN

8 West 38th Street Only Location

SLASHED TWELVE TIMES IN WOMAN'S ROOMS

Continued from first page.

apartment of the Greenwich, No. 446 Central Park West.

Mrs. Bennet, the janitor's wife, creamed as he ran down the stairs. "Get a doctor! I'm stabbed!" cried

Mr. Judson. Mrs. Bennet's husband came running in, threw a blanket around Mr. Judson's scantily clad form, then he telephoned to J. Hood Wright Hospital for "Oh, this is awful," said the young man, "and I'm engaged to the prettiest girl in Philadelphia."

Then Dr. Dickens arrived. He found ten slight slashes on the young man's legs and two on his right shoulder "My face must be covered; cover my face with something," said Mr. Judson when he was told he would have to go to the hospital. Mrs. Bennet lent him a heavy vel Attired in this and an old pair of trousers that the janitor wears firing the furnace, and an old overcoat, also from the store of the janitor, Mr. Jude son walked to the ambulance,

To the surgeon Judson gave his address as the Racquet Club, 16th street and Locust avenue, Philadelphia. And to the police he confided that he had been living at the University Club in the same city until he was elected a driver on an automobile who had run, member of the Racquet Club, being proposed by a relative, Thomas Andrews, cashier of the First National belonged to the people, and that the Bank of Philadelphia.

Visitor's Clothes Missing. In the mean time Detective Wilber and four of his men from the West 100th street station went around to the Dencker apartment and learned that Mr. Dencker had gone out immediately after the hasty departure of Mr. Judson. And all they could find of Mr. Judson's clothes were a pair of shoes and a pair of lavender silk sox. Mrs. Dencker was invited to go to the police station, where she spent four hours or more in Detective Wilber's The advisory board of the William Mc- office, laughing and chatting over the Kinley Memorial Hospital League, from way she was fooling a half dozen photographers, who were waiting outside to snap her picture. Detectives made a vain search of the homes of relatives of Dencker in an effort to find him, and no one at his office had seen that no further information would come him since noon. Detective Wilber said young Judson up at the hospital told one of his men prosecute, and no one could make him. At 8 o'clock Mr. Andrews arrived at the hospital and was shown to Mr. Judheart talk. "Don't say anything about it," said Mr. Andrews to the reporters. "It's only a case of a young fellow's getting in bad. His parents are out West, and if they heard of it would rush here at once; his wounds are only super-

At the hospital young Judson gave as his nearest friend George K. Judson, of Cleveland. It is understood he is his brother. The patient's father is said to be Henry S. Judson, of Chicago, president of a realty company there.

ficial and he'll be out in a couple of RUSSIA'S NEW NAVAL BUDGET St. Petersburg, Nov. 11,-The naval estimates for 1913 include $34,000,009 for shipbuilding.

FUNTS FINE FURNITURE

HOLIDAY GIFTS

The most acceptable Gift to any member of the home circle is a choice piece of "Flint's Fine Furniture," built "Flint Quality"—something that will be prized for its individuality, artistic beauty and utility.

The remarkable assemblage of useful and ornamental objects, as displayed on our ten spacious floors, assures the utmost satisfaction and appropriateness of selections.

Selections will be delivered as desired.

Gifts for distant points will be skillfully packed and all the details of transportation attended to.

GEO. C. FLINT CO. 48-47 WEST 23" ST. 24-28 WEST 24" ST.